EXXONMOBIL DONATES K70,000 FOR ORO FLOODS

PORT MORESBY – Esso Highlands, Operator of the PNG LNG Project, today announced a contribution of $US25,000 (K70,370) from the ExxonMobil Foundation to the PNG Red Cross to help humanitarian efforts in Oro Province.

"Our thoughts are with the people of Oro Province who we understand are in desperate need of assistance following the recent devastating floods. We applaud the Red Cross for its efforts and believe it is important to help them continue to provide assistance to those in need," said Gary Morony, Managing Director of Esso Highlands Limited.

"The Red Cross relies on the generosity of companies such as ExxonMobil to help our organization provide immediate disaster relief," said the PNG Red Cross. "By making a financial contribution to the Red Cross, donors help us to provide food, shelter and medicine and will help us to remain in the affected province for as long as it takes to help people recover and rebuild."

ExxonMobil has two subsidiaries operating in PNG; Esso Highlands is the operator of the PNG LNG Project and Mobil Oil New Guinea which has been marketing petroleum fuels and other refined products in Papua New Guinea since 1922.
