PNG LNG Project Launches New Website www.pnglng.com

PORT MORESBY – Esso Highlands Limited, an Exxon Mobil Corporation subsidiary, as Operator of the PNG LNG Project, today launched the new Project website: www.pnglng.com.

The PNG LNG website is an informational resource designed to enable PNG citizens to learn more about the proposed Project.

In addition to Project maps, concept outlines, timelines, marketing and community investment information the website will have Project media releases, speeches and publications available for downloading. Employment and business opportunities will also be advertised on the site as they become available.

A “contact us” section and email form have been designed to allow interested persons to ask questions and contact the project directly.

The site will be updated and upgraded on an ongoing basis as a proactive PNG community information resource as the Project progresses through the FEED phase.

The PNG LNG website has been designed and developed by PNG website development company, Masalai Communications.
